About LAMusArt: The Los Angeles Music and Art School (LAMusArt) is a nonprofit arts organization founded in 1945 that provides the community of East Los Angeles, specifically its K-12 student population, with affordable and continuous access to after-school, multidisciplinary arts programs. Our objective is to provide all students with equal opportunities to engage in the arts regardless of one's ethnicity, ability, gender, experience, or financial background. Programming at LAMusArt is provided year-round at both tuition-subsidized and tuition-free rates. This includes private music lessons and small group lessons in the visual arts, dance, and drama.

The LAMusArt Dance Teaching Artist position will serve as a dance instructor and choreographer for LAMusArt's robust dance department which includes courses in ballet, flamenco, hip hop and more. The Dance Teaching Artist is responsible for introducing students to varying concepts in dance, rhythm, choreography and technique while preparing students for quarterly recitals and concerts.

Primary Responsibilities:

- Develop, coordinate and execute curriculum in dance that introduces students ages 7-15 technique, repertoire, movement, and choreography in Ballet and other styles of dance if needed.
- Supervise student participants during class time and rehearsals
- Choreograph and teach the fundamentals of Ballet.
- Provide backstage support and supervision during culminating performances.
- Plan, develop and execute a culminating student showcase/presentation/performance at least twice a year.
- Create detailed lesson plans for weekly classes as well as a VAPA integrated curriculum every four months incorporating our specific framework and assessment tools.

This is a part-time position with additional hours for administrative prep.
